BLOCKWORLD
POWER

Sleep paralysis
opened the door again.

Lucidity carried me
into the Storyverse.

This time I
traveled alone.

A world of
doppelgangers
was waiting.

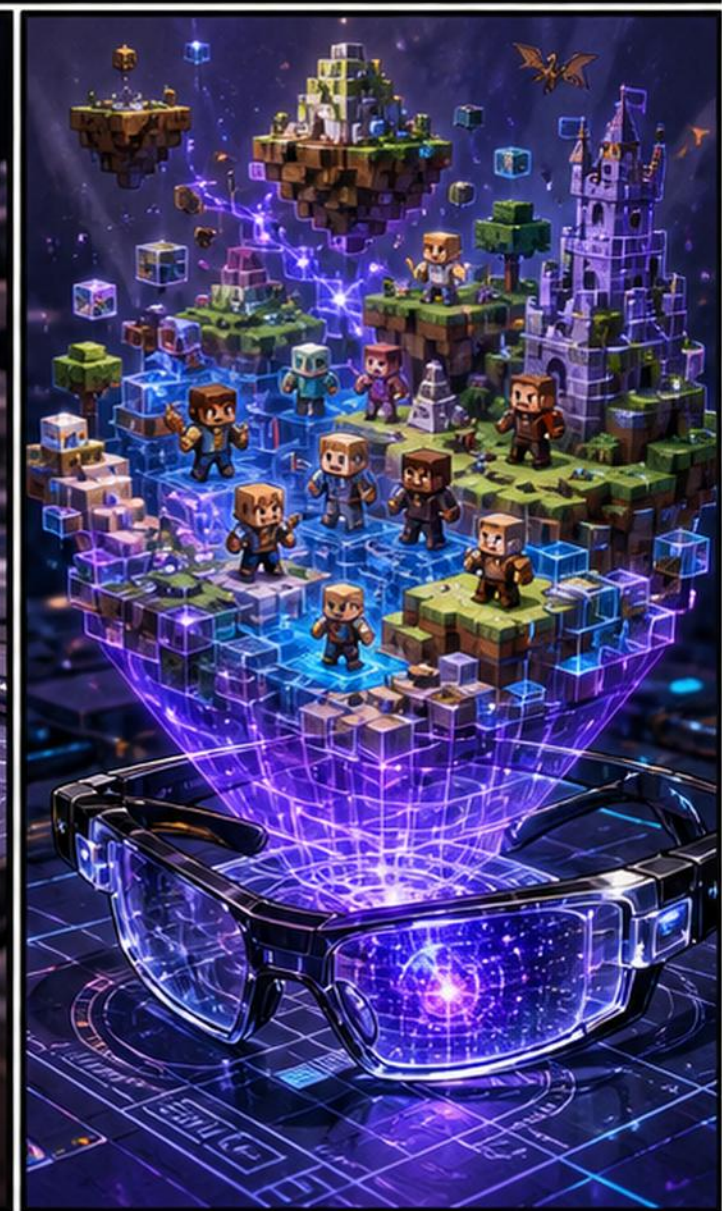

Every version of
me brought an angle.

The idea
became a device.

AI worlds, projected
into waking space.

I TESTED
THE GLASSES
FIRST.

BLOCKY SUPERHUMANS
LIVED INSIDE IT.

I WAS SUPPOSED TO OBSERVE.

INSTEAD,
I GOT INVESTED.

The main heroes were
World Guard...

World Guard
carried the World Power.

...and Woofer.

Woofer saw
the danger
before it struck.

Then Space
Succubus
found them.

She hunted
World Guard variants
across the multiverse.

If World Guard
fought directly...

...she would
drain him
instantly.

Woofers could dodge what he could foresee.

But fear
kept him
small.

So World Guard
tried what no
variant had tried.

He shared the World Power.

Space Succubus
never expected a shared power.

Woofers struck
from the future
she missed.

The battle had only just become incredible.

Then I woke up
wanting the next page.
