LUCID LIGHT WATCH

Then
corrupted
Lucid Light
found me.

It wore
the shape
of a dog.

Lion-sized.

Fast enough
to make the
whole world
narrow.

I needed
my crew.

So I made
a shortcut.

Lucid Light
became a
watch.

Skelebot
answered
first.

LLV-Skelebot
gave me
speed.

For a moment,
speed was
enough.

Then the
beast warped
forward.

I hit the ground before
I understood.

Speed
failed.

Strength
built a cage.

LLV-Tecton
called the axes.

The bark
broke
everything.

I needed
power the ground could not resist.

So I
became
Leon.

No
traction.

No
charge.

Then my tether found
the wound.

My rainbow
sword pulled
the corruption free.

Storyverse
Animal Control
took it from
there.

The watch
let me travel
solo without leaving my
crew behind.
